Five naval cadets of the final graduating class, who were found disqualified at recent academic physical examiexamination at the Navy Department today. Medical Director Dean was president of the examining board. In case this board reports against them the cadets will be honorably discharged from the navy July 1 with a year's pay. The academic examination is said to have been unusually severe, especially as their record past four years shows no ervice on account of ill-health. Cadet Lucien Smith has many friends in Washington, agent at Cairo. Egypt. Since their Smith has many friends in his Jeltsch has represented his government as minwho are deeply interested in his case. NO IMPROVEMENT

Nor is Any Expected, in the Financial Situation.

NO C'ABINET MEETING

Because Secretary Carlisle Did Not Return This Morning-There May Be an Informal Conference Tonight to Teach the Silverites a Lesson-Views of Congressmen.

Secretary Carlisle telegraphed this morning that he had missed the steamer at Easton and therefore could not arrive in Washington until this evening. In his absence there was no cabinet meeting held, though if he arrives here in time there may be an informal conference tonight between the President and the members of his cabinet, except Secretary Lamont, who has gone to New York and will go from there to Chicago. There is no evidence of improvement in the financial situation and none is expected. It is by no means cerquestion in the cabinet. There seems to be a difference of opinion among the doctors, but it is evidently the policy of the administration to let the patient sink as low as possible with safety, and the only question seems to be how low it can sink without a collapse. Both Mr. Cleveland and Mr. Contains a considerable practice in New York, and has considerable practice in New York and has considerable practice in New York city. Carlisle are of the opinion that the silverites and the flat money people of the south and west can be taught wisdom only through the stern tutorage of adversity, and they do not care to interfere to make the lesson less impressive until it has had some effect. They are trying to keep between the farmer and Wall street, adhering strictly to the letter of the law hering strictly to the letter of the law and permitting the consequences to demon-strate the quality of the law. A man who is in strate the quality of the law. A man who is in a position to know something about the policies of the administration said to a Star reporter today that his understanding was that Mr. Carlisle would go on using the gold reserve until it was practically all gone or something was done by Congress to relieve the drain. While the law requires that the $100,000,000 reserve fund shall be replenished when depleted, there is nothing to make it obligatory on the Secretary to issue bonds at any particular time during the course of the depletion. He can issue the bonds to make up the present difference between eight odd millions and one hundred millions, or he can let things run on till the reserve is reduced to forty or fifty millions and then issue bonds to make up the difference.

The impression is today that an issue of bonds would be delayed as long as possible, and if the administration decides to do anything now it will be only because the strain is regarded as great enough to make further delay dangerous.

VIEWS OF CONGRESSMEN.

Congressmen are discussing the subject of an extra session at a date earlier than it is now expected that Congress will be asked to assemble, but the general opinion seems to be that little would be accomplished by such action at this time. They admit that the financial situation can be relieved that the financial situation can be relieved. ion of the financial difficulty must be accombond issue a prominent democratic Senator said that if the republican administration could of the Treasury was prepared and anxious to do so the democrats could surely not. Some quiet work has been going in on the meantime in this direction, and already two gigantic frauds have been unearthed, while the inspectors are rapidly closing in on another gang. The first case was that of the Norfolk crowd of pension swindlers, whose raid upon the treasury has been pretty extensive. It is estimated that nearly a quarter of a million of dollars represents the dealings of this gang, who carried on a wholesale and retail business in fraudulent pensions.
